:) Welcome to the TFN Fishing Forums. We have developed our own set of internal forums to provide you with discussion areas on a wide range of fishing. There is an on-line FAQ available in the menu to help you out with problems you might have.

To get started, you may either enter as a Guest (you will not be able to post anything) or you can setup a "Profile" that contains the name you want to use and your email address, as well as other information. Enter your Name and a Password (we suggest your email name for ease of memory).

If you have any comments or suggestions, please contact our Forums Administrator.

Again, welcome, and we hope your participation is rewarding and productive!
